ORIGINAL ARTICLE Mirror of Research in Veterinary Sciences and Animals MRVSA/ Open Access DOAJ

The Camel, the desert ship is on its way to extinction in Iraq Report on Slaughtered Camels in Iraq

Montaser O. Abdel Aziz [1], Salah F. Abbas [1], Abdulkareem A. Ibrahim [2*], Eman A. Allawi [1]
[1] Veterinary Directorate, [2] Al-Muthana Veterinary Hospital.

ARTICLE INFO

Received: 16.03.2018
Revised: 23.04. 2018
Accepted: 02.05. 2018
Publish online: 02.07.2018

Corresponding author: Abdulkareem A. Ibrahim/ Al-Muthana Veterinary Hospital

Abstract

The numbers of camels in Iraq are decreasing year after year due to many causes, one of these are the continuous slaughtering. This report is highlighted the numbers of slaughtered camels in Iraq and the solution to overcome this phenomenon.

To cite this article: Montaser O. Abdel Aziz, Salah F. Abbas, Abdulkareem A. Ibrahim, Eman A. Allawi. (2018). The Camel, the desert ship is on its way to extinction in Iraq: Report on Slaughtered Camels in Iraq. MRVSA. 7 (3), 66-71.
doi: http://dx.doi.org/10.22428/mrvsa-2018-00739

Keywords: Desert ship, extinction, Iraq, Slaughtered Camels.